

Princeton Project in Philosophy & Religion

Thursday May 18, 2023

9am – 5:45pm

Julis Romo Rabinowitz Building, Room JRR A17

Princeton University

Book symposium and Conference on Post-Classical Islamic Philosophy: New Directions

Organized by Kamal Ahmed and Andrew Chignell

Open and free to the public with registration (links below)

Frank Griffel's

The Formation of Post-Classical Philosophy in Islam (OUP, 2021)

9:00am – 9:15am: Welcome

9:15am – 10:30am: Author Meets Critics

Chair: Kamal Ahmed (Princeton University)

Comments:

Hassan Ansari (Institute for Advanced Study)

Francesco Zamboni (University of Jyväskylä)

Lara Harb (Princeton University)

Author's Response:

Frank Griffel (Yale University)

10:30am-10:45am: Break

10:45am – 12pm: Audience Discussion

Chair: Lara Harb (Princeton University)

12pm – 1:30pm: Lunch and Break

Post-Classical Islamic Philosophy: New Directions

1:30pm – 3:45pm: Chair: Shaun Marmon (Princeton University)

1:30pm – 2:15pm: Reza Pourjavady (Institute for Advanced Study)

"Averroes in the Islamic East: The Safavid Reception"

2:15pm – 3pm: Rosabel Ansari (SUNY-Stony Brook)

"Avicenna and the Foundations of Post-classical Philosophical Sufism"

3pm – 3:45pm: Francesco Zamboni (University of Jyväskylä)

"Fakhr al-Din al-Razi on the Principle of Sufficient Reason"

3:45pm – 4:15pm: Tea, Coffee, and Rolls

Keynote Address

4:15pm – 5:45pm: Chair: Andrew Chignell (Princeton University)

Frank Griffel (Yale University)

"Discussions of the World's Eternity in Different Types of Philosophical Books in the Early Post-Classical Period (12th and early 13th centuries)"

Register at <https://pppr.princeton.edu/events>