

PhenoLab
Training and Teaching activities - AY 2023-2024

The PhenoLab was set up in 2019 as a free of charge series of seminars and lectures organised and held by Prof. Dr. Francesca Brencio. Originally born with the support of Dr. Prisca Bauer of the Systemic Research and Psychotherapy Section at the Department of Psychosomatic Medicine at the Freiburg Medical Centre (Germany), from October 2021 the PhenoLab activities have proceeded autonomously under the sole responsibility of Prof. Brencio.

From the Academic Year 2023-2024 the PhenoLab activities will be divided in four types: two free of charge and two with registration fees.

1. Academic Lectures: for free, once a month, partially recorded and uploaded on the PhenoLab YouTube Channel
2. Encountering Health Professionals: for free, once every two months, partially recorded and uploaded on the PhenoLab YouTube Channel
3. Course in Applying Phenomenology: twice a month, a team of scholars coming from a strong experience in the field of phenomenology and qualitative research will teach how to apply the phenomenological method. In order to participate to the course, registration fees are required. They will include online lectures, teaching materials, reading and discussion groups. Recordings of the course will not be uploaded.
Teachers:
Prof. Dr. Scott Churchill, Full Professor at University of Dallas, USA
Prof. Dr. Magnus Englander, Associate Professor at Malmö University, Sweden
Prof. Dr. Susi Ferrarello, Associate Professor in the Department of Philosophy and Religious Studies at California State University, East Bay, USA
Prof. Dr. James Morley, Professor of clinical psychology at Ramapo College of New Jersey, USA
4. Course in Philosophical Counseling and Phenomenology: twice every two months, certified practitioners in the field of Philosophical Counselling, with a focus on phenomenology and hermeneutics, will guide the participants in using the tools coming from these two distinct yet close fields of knowledge. In order to participate to the course, registration fees are required. They will include online lectures, teaching materials, reading groups, and pragmatological activities. Recordings of the course will not be uploaded.

Teachers:
Prof. Dr. Francesca Brencio, University of Seville, Spain – APPA certified philosophical counselor
Prof. Dr. Susi Ferrarello, Associate Professor in the Department of Philosophy and Religious Studies at California State University, East Bay, USA - APPA certified philosophical counsellor

In June 2024 the PhenoLab will organise and host the 1st edition of the PhenoLab Summer School in Applying Phenomenology. More information about the call for papers, keynote speakers, dates and costs will be provided at the very beginning of 2024.

The PhenoLab activities will start on October 10 2023.
The new program will be published within the beginning of September.
Lectures and discussions will be held in English.

PHENOLAB
A THEORETICAL LABORATORY IN PHENOMENOLOGY AND MENTAL HEALTH

For any query or information please contact phenolab2019@gmail.com

The PhenoLab is open for collaborations with Departments of Philosophy and Schools of Medicine, as well as Schools of Psychiatry and Psychology, and research groups in the field of health in general and mental health in particular.

More info at: <https://phenolab.blogspot.com/2023/08/training-and-teaching-activities-ay.html>

About Registration Fees: <https://phenolab.blogspot.com/2023/08/registration-fees-ay-2023-2024.html>

About the course in Philosophical Counseling and Phenomenology:

<https://phenolab.blogspot.com/2023/08/course-in-philosophical-counseling-and.html>