

Recent Work on the Logic of Ground

Two-day workshop, June 5-6, University of Oslo, Georg Morgenstiernes Hus 652

Workshop theme

In the last decade our understanding of the logical aspects of grounding has improved a lot. Systems for logics of ground have been studied both proof-theoretically and semantically. The workshop bring together important contributors to the recent literature to discuss issues in the logic of ground.

Thursday June 5

9:00

Welcome and Coffee

9:20- 10:35

Antje Rumberg (University of Konstanz)

Grounding in Bolzano and Normal Proofs

10:45-12:00

Benjamin Schnieder (University of Hamburg)

Aristotle's Insight

13:00-14:15

Jon Litland (University of Oslo and CSMN)

Outline of a Theory of Ground

14:30-15:45

Erica Schumener (New York University)

Grounding Questions

16:00-17:15

Kit Fine (New York University)

New Foundations for Essence and Ground

Friday June 6, 2014

- 9:00 Opening
- 9:20 Fabrice Correia (University of Neuchatel)
On the Impure Logic of Conceptualistic Ground
- 10:45-12:00 Louis deRosset (University of Vermont)
Grounding the Unreal
- 13:00-14:15 Jeremy Goodman (New York University)
General facts and their instances
- 14:30-15:15 Francesca Poggiolesi (CNRS - Université d'Aix-Marseille)

Logic of Grounding: An alternative approach
- 16:00-17:15 Shamik Dasgupta (Princeton University)
Metaphysics and Necessity

Organizer: Jon Erling Litland.

The workshop was made possible by the generous support of IFIKK.