

WEST COAST HEIDEGGER

WORKSHOP 2025

CALL FOR PAPERS

Historical studies of Heidegger's GA & studies of Heidegger's GA in the History of Philosophy

We invite submissions for an in-person 2-day conference to be held in Los Angeles, January 17th - 18th, 2025. Papers should indicate to which axis of interest, below, they aim to contribute. The workshop will be limited to 14 papers maximum. The number of attendees will not be limited.

SUBMIT PAPERS BY: SEPTEMBER 1ST, 2024

5000-6000 WORDS + ABSTRACT

CONFIRMED SPEAKERS:

Julia Ireland, Whitman College

Francisco Gonzalez, University of Ottawa

For all other local, travel and venue questions write to: ian.moore@lmu.edu

WEST COAST HEIDEGGER WORKSHOP 2025

THREE AXES OF INTEREST

1. We are interested in the scholarship of the Heidegger Gesamtausgabe, in the historical study of Heidegger's thought as it develops and evolves. This, necessarily, also includes the study of Heidegger's sources, both referenced and unreferenced, but in a manner that emphasizes a historico-philological dimension.

2. We are interested in Heidegger's history/histories of philosophy as they are articulated throughout his writings. We are interested in investigating, critically but constructively, both the overlaps and confirmations, as well as the discontinuities and differences among the different presentations throughout the HGA.

3. We are equally interested in Heidegger's own place in the history of Philosophy, in relation to Heidegger's period contexts, but also in the systematic relationship between Heidegger's thought and that of other figures, movements and periods, insofar as this is studied from a developmental perspective, shedding light on Heidegger's thought.

In contrast to topical work, we are interested in cultivating studies that have a strong genetic, textual anchoring that avoids anachronism.

SAMPLE PAPER TOPICS MAY INCLUDE BUT ARE NOT LIMITED TO

- Variations in the History of Truth from GA45 to N II to GA69 etc.
- The development of the notion of phenomenon from SZ to the Four Seminars.
- Expository and philological work on recent GA volumes from GA65-GA90
- The evolution of MH's Anaximander readings, e.g. 1932-1946, or GA35 to GA78.
- The dialectic of ontology and metaphysics, of Befindlichkeit and Stimmung, or of Rede and Sprache throughout the GA.
- The evolution of the Artwork-essay, from first draft to Afterword.
- Heidegger's auto-critiques, from GA65 to GA82.
- The determination of Modernity in N II and in GA76.

WEST COAST HEIDEGGER WORKSHOP 2025

VENUE

Loyola Marymount University, 10-minute drive from LAX airport.

ORGANIZATIONAL COMMITTEE

Rex Gilliland, Southern Connecticut State University, rex.gilliland@gmail.com.

Ian Alexander Moore, Loyola Marymount University, ian.moore@lmu.edu.

Hakhamanesh Zangeneh, California State University, Stanislaus, hzangeneh@csustan.edu.

Submissions Manager: Chet Mlcek, Loyola Marymount University, chetmlcek@gmail.com

WITH ADDITIONAL LOCAL HELP FROM

David Abergel, Loyola Marymount University, david.abergel@lmu.edu

Matthew Kwak, Loyola Marymount University, mkwak1@lion.lmu.edu

Vicente Muñoz-Reja Alonso, Loyola Marymount University, vicente.munozreja@lmu.edu

SUBMISSION PROCESS

Complete papers, 5000-6000 words, plus abstract, should be submitted by September 1st, 2024. Submissions will be blind-reviewed. Paper selection will be completed by October 1st. Papers will be pre-distributed. Reading time will be limited to 30 minutes. Each paper will have at least 30 minutes discussion time.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Please email the following two files to westcoastheidegger@gmail.com

- 1st file: Title, Author, Affiliation, Abstract
- 2nd file: Title and Text

For all other local, travel and venue questions write to: ian.moore@lmu.edu