

© Rob Gonsalves

Reductionist & Anti-Reductionist Perspectives on Normativity

York University's 7th Graduate Conference in Philosophy

23-24 April 2015, Ross S421

Keynote speakers: Terence Cuneo (University of Vermont) and Claudine Verheggen (York University)

Thursday

9:30-10:00
Coffee & registration

10:00-10:50
Fermin Fulda (University of Toronto): An Ecological Account of Natural Action

11:10-12:00
Nicole Dular (Syracuse University): Still Confused: Normative Language and Moral Indifference

13:00-13:50
Samuel Dishaw (Université de Montréal): A Conjecture in Assessing Reductionism about Moral Values

14:10-15:00
Jessy Giroux (University of Toronto): Intra-normative Reductionism: Reducing the Deontic to the Evaluative

15:30-17:30
Keynote
Terence Cuneo (University of Vermont): Destabilizing the Error Theory

Friday
9:30-10:00
Coffee & registration

10:00-10:50
William Bredeson (Simon Fraser University): External

Reasons and Pragmatic Value

11:10-12:00
Amy K Flowerree (Northwestern University): On the Ontological Significance of Reasons

13:00-13:50
Nicholas Laskowski (University of Southern California): The Knowledge Argument in Philosophy of Mind and Metaethics

14:10-15:00
Caleb Lee (University of Calgary): The Normative Pressure one Feels to Believe in a Certain Way is not the Result of one Conceiving of their Attitude as a Belief

15:30-17:30
Keynote
Claudine Verheggen (York University): From Semantic Non-Reductionism to Semantic Normativity

Sponsors
Department of Philosophy
Philosophy Graduate Program
Graduate Students' Association (GSA)
Faculty of Graduate Studies (FGS)
Faculty of Liberal Arts and Professional Studies (LA&PS)
Philosophy Graduate Students' Association (PGSA)