

CALL FOR PAPERS

17th Annual Southern Appalachian Undergraduate Philosophy Conference

Saturday, February 6, 2016
The University of North Carolina at Asheville

Judges: Meghan Sullivan, University of Notre Dame
Paul Churchill, George Washington University

Keynote Speaker: Meghan Sullivan, University of Notre Dame

Submissions must be received by Monday, November 16, 2015
Acceptance notification will occur by December 8, 2015

Our symposium provides a professional style philosophical forum for aspiring undergraduates to present significant and original work. All papers will be evaluated by blind review process. At the conference, two guest judges will determine prizes for the top three presentations. Please submit each of the following as a separate MS Word file to bbutler@unca.edu:

- ◆ a paper
- ◆ an abstract
- ◆ a separate cover sheet

Papers on any philosophical topic are welcome. Papers should be designed for a 20 minute presentation time [approximately 10 standard double-spaced pages]. Abstracts should be one paragraph, double spaced, and no more than 150 words. Cover sheets should contain the title of the paper, the author's name, and the author's institutional affiliation, address, e-mail address, and phone number. For submissions or further information, please contact: Dr. Brian E. Butler bbutler@unca.edu.

Sponsoring Organizations include: The Office of the Provost, The Office of the Dean of Humanities, The UNCA Philosophical Society, The NC Epsilon Chapter of Phi Sigma Tau, The Deryl Howard Fund & The UNCA Philosophy Department
