CALL FOR PAPERS

INFINITY IN EARLY MODERN PHILOSOPHY

The NYC Workshop in Jerusalem

Sunday-Monday, 19-20 June 2016 at the Van Leer Jerusalem Institute

Keynote Speakers:

Maria Rosa Antognazza (King's College London)

Paul Guyer (Brown University)

Yitzhak Melamed (Johns Hopkins University)

The 6th New York City Workshop in Early Modern Philosophy will take place at the Van Leer Jerusalem Institute in Israel on Sunday-Monday, 19-20 June 2016. This year's workshop will be dedicated to the topic of infinity in early modern philosophy. The workshop particularly welcomes treatments of the infinite's role in mathematical, theological, scientific, metaphysical, political and aesthetic contexts during the early modern period (roughly 1600-1800). The workshop aims to foster exchange and collaboration between scholars and students of early modern philosophy.

Please submit abstracts of 250-300 words (prepared for blind review) to newyorkcityearlymodern@gmail.com no later than February 15th, 2016. The program will be made available in March 2016. Accepted submissions will also be considered for a planned edited volume. The conference will provide accommodations and meals for all speakers (but will not be able to cover other travel costs, such as airfare). Further details will be made available through the conference website: nyearlymodernworkshop.weebly.com

Conference Organizers: Ohad Nachtomy (Bar-Ilan University), Reed Winegar (Fordham University/Freie Universität Berlin), Pini Ifregan (Bar-Ilan University and the Spinoza Center).
