

Quo Vadis Selective Scientific Realism?

5th - 7th August 2017 Durham University, UK

Conference Themes

- Assessing the validity of selective scientific realism by examining relevant evidence from the history of science
- Bringing that evidence to bear upon a variety of selective scientific realist positions
- Evaluating philosophical and conceptual challenges to the selective realist stance
- Discussing the future of scientific selective realism

Keynote speakers

Hasok Chang (Cambridge)

Michela Massimi (Edinburgh)

Stathis Psillos (Athens)

P. Kyle Stanford (UC Irvine)

John Worrall (LSE)

This is a conference sponsored by the AHRC-funded project "Scientific Realism and the Challenge from the History of Science."

For registration, please click here.

Deadline of Registration: July 22, 2017

Durham
University

INDIANA UNIVERSITY
PURDUE UNIVERSITY
INDIANAPOLIS

Arts & Humanities
Research Council