

§ CALL FOR PAPERS §

18th Annual

Southern Appalachian Undergraduate Philosophy Conference

The University of North Carolina at Asheville
The Liberal Arts Campus of the University of North Carolina

Saturday, February 11, 2017

Our symposium provides a professional style philosophical forum for aspiring undergraduates to present significant and original work. All papers will be evaluated by blind review process. At the conference, judges from universities with important graduate programs will determine prizes for the top three presentations [1st place--$175; 2nd place--$125; 3rd place--$100].

We are honored to announce the keynote speaker this year will be:

Dr. Peg Birmingham, DePaul University

Please submit each of the following as a separate MS Word file to ddavis@unca.edu:

- ◆ a paper
- ◆ an abstract
- ◆ a separate cover sheet with name and affiliation

Papers on any philosophical topic are welcome. Papers should be designed for a 20 minute presentation time [approximately 10 standard double-spaced pages]. The paper should not contain the author's name or institutional affiliation.

Abstracts should be attached to the paper, should be one paragraph, double spaced, no more than 150 words. These abstracts should not contain the author's name or institutional affiliation.

Cover sheets should be on a separate sheet, and should contain the title of the paper, the author's name, and the author's institutional affiliation, address, e-mail address, and phone number.

Submissions must be received by Friday, November 18, 2016
Participants will be notified by Friday December 9, 2016

For submissions or further information, please contact:

Dr. Duane H. Davis
Department of Philosophy, CPO # 2830, UNCA
One University Heights
Asheville, NC 28804-3251
ddavis@unca.edu

Sponsoring Organizations include: the Deryl Howard Memorial Fund, the Office of the Deans, the Belk Chair of Humanities, The UNCA Philosophy Club, The NC Epsilon Chapter of Phi Sigma Tau, & The UNCA Philosophy Department