

HUSSERL-ARCHIV COLOGNE-LEUVEN SUMMER SCHOOL 2017

Phenomenology and its Methods

intentional analysis | Deskription | analysis of constitution | eidetic method | reductive methods and the genetic analysis of human consciousness | relation of phenomenological methods to experimental methods in general, science of nature and human sciences

Dieter Lohmar (Cologne)

Thiemo Breyer (Cologne)

Jagna Brudzinska (Cologne/Warsaw)

Emanuele Caminada (KUW Leuven)

Marco Cavallaro (Cologne)

Christian Ferencz-Flatz (Bucarest/Köln)

Sergio Pérez Gatica (Mexico/Cologne)

Alice Pugliese (Palermo)

Regina Schreiber (Cologne)

Lectures, readings, presentations of doctoral research.

This international Summer School is open for students from all countries. The courses will be held in English (mostly) and German. Participation is free of charge. Students of the University of Cologne can attain a „Hauptseminarschein“.

Further information: <http://ukoeln.de/WN6AN>

IMPORTANT: Because of limited capacities written registration is required with the secretary of the Husserl-Archiv: klaus.sellge@uni-koeln.de

Universität zu Köln, Hauptgebäude, Raum 4.011
Mo–Fr 30. Juli–4. August 2017 | 10–13 & 15–17 Uhr

Gestaltung: Klaus Sellge | Foto: Husserl-Archiv, KU Leuven

Universität zu Köln
Philosophische Fakultät
Husserl-Archiv

