

HUMBOLDT NORMATIVITY CONFERENCE 2018

Wednesday, 13 June 2018

- 09:30 Welcome and Introduction
- 10:00-11:20 Daniel Drucker (UNAM): The Duty to Present Opposed Reasons
- 11:30-12:50 Conor McHugh & Jonathan Way (Southampton): Might All Reasons be Reasons for Attitudes?
- 13:00 Lunch
- 14:40-16:00 Katharina Felka (Graz): Slurs as Asides
- 16:30-18:15 Gideon Rosen (Princeton): Laws and Explanation in Practical Philosophy (keynote address)
- 19:30 Dinner

Thursday, 14 June 2018

- 09:45 Coffee
- 10:00-11:20 Nick Hughes (Durham): Epistemic Dilemmas
- 11:30-12:50 Davide Fassio (Hangzhou): What the Doctor Should Do: Perspectivist Duties for Objectivists about Ought
- 13:00 Lunch
- 14:40-16:00 Oded Na'aman (Stanford): The Diachronic Dimension of Fitting Attitudes
- 16:30-17:50 Holly Smith (Rutgers): Asymmetric Values of Fulfilling and Violating Duties (keynote address)
- 19:30 Dinner

Friday, 15 June 2018

- 10:00-11:20 Franziska Poprawe (Oxford): A Scope-Independent Account of What Rationality Requires
- 11:30-12:50 Moritz Schulz (Hamburg): Knowledge of Preferences in Rational Decision
- 13:00 Lunch

Organisers: Jan Gertken, Benjamin Kiesewetter, Thomas Schmidt

Department of Philosophy, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

Contact and registration: normativity2018@hu-berlin.de (registration deadline 20 May 2018)

This is the third conference in a series of yearly Humboldt-Southampton Normativity Conferences, alternating between Humboldt University in Berlin and Southampton University in the UK.

This conference is sponsored by the KOSMOS-program of Humboldt University.