

The University of South Florida Philosophy Graduate Student Organization presents its 11th annual conference

Resistance and Love After Foundationalism

April 13-15, 2018

Invited Keynotes

José Medina
Northwestern University

Elena Ruíz
Michigan State University

University of South Florida Faculty Keynote Adriana Novoa, Department of History

How do we talk about resistance and/or love in a non-foundationalist context? We invite papers on the topics of resistance, love, and friendship, departing from the foundationalism of the Modern period. Our theme is open to broad, pluralistic, and interdisciplinary interpretations. We encourage submissions from scholars in minority and marginalized groups.

Topic Areas

- Resistance
- Love
- Friendship
- Ethics
- Phenomenology
- Foundationalism
- Postmodernism
- Social/Political Philosophy
- Race
- Gender
- Class
- Disability

Submission Guidelines

Provide an abstract of 100 – 250 words. Papers should be no more than 3000 words, excluding abstract, footnotes, and bibliography. Papers must be prepared for blind review. Authors' identifying information can be provided in the body of the submission email or in a separate, attached cover-page. Use PDF or MSWord file types only (.pdf, .doc, or .docx). Limit one submission per person.

Deadline: 14 February, 2018

Please send all submissions to usfconference@gmail.com.