

9th Annual Northwestern/Notre Dame Graduate Epistemology Conference

The graduate students of the philosophy departments at Northwestern University and the University of Notre Dame invite submission of high quality work in any area of analytic epistemology, broadly construed. This includes traditional, formal, naturalized, social, and feminist epistemology, etc. Papers should be suitable for a 20 to 30 minute presentation, and should not exceed 4000 words, excluding footnotes and end matter. Papers over 4000 words will not be considered.

Papers should be prepared for anonymous review, and submitted as PDFs with a separate cover sheet that includes: the author's name, institutional affiliation, contact information, paper title, word count, and an abstract of up to 200 words.

Papers should be submitted to nundgradconf@gmail.com. The submission deadline is February 20th.

Conference Dates: April 27-28th, 2018

Location: Northwestern University, Kresge Hall

Keynote Speaker: Jane Friedman (NYU)

Questions and other inquires may be directed to nundgradconf@gmail.com.