Culture and Dialogue provides a forum for researchers from philosophy as well as other disciplines who study cultural formations dialogically, through comparative analysis, or within the tradition of hermeneutics.

For each issue, the Journal seeks to bring manuscripts together with a common denominator.

The next 2018 issue (Volume 6, Number 2) will focus on the theme of

Dialogue and Globalisation

Globalisation has pervaded all aspects of our lives in many parts of the world. The phenomenon is obviously not only economic and technological; globalisation has affected human and cultural relationships, identity formations, and our ability and willingness to be attentive to our fellow human beings and the places of our worlds.

We welcome essays that attempt to address these issues from different cultural perspectives or philosophical traditions.
