

The Ethics of State Mass Surveillance

Karlsruhe Institute of Technology, Germany, Theodor-Rehbock-Hörsaal HS59 (Theodor Rehbock Lecture Hall HS59), Building 10.81, Otto-Ammann-Platz 1

11.-12. April, 2019

Thursday. 11.4.2019

- | | |
|---------------|--|
| 9.30 – 9.45 | Coffee, welcome address |
| 9.45 – 11.00 | Kevin Macnish (Twente): „Is mass surveillance a privacy problem?“ |
| 11.00 – 11.15 | Coffee break |
| 11.15 – 12.30 | Ingmar Persson (Gothenburg/Oxford): „The Sweet Dream of God-like Control“ |
| 12.30 – 13.30 | Lunch break |
| 13.30 – 14.45 | Frej Thomsen (Copenhagen): „The ethics of police body-worn cameras“ |
| 14.45 – 16.00 | Titus Stahl (Groningen): „Privacy in public: a democratic defense“ |
| 16.00 – 16.30 | Coffee break |
| 16.30 – 17.45 | Nóra Ní Loideain (Cambridge/London): „Augmenting Legal Oversight with AI in Predictive Policing“ |
| 18.30 | Conference Dinner, „My Heat Beats Vegan“, Kriegsstraße 94 |

Friday. 12.4.2019

- | | |
|---------------|--|
| 9.00 – 9.15 | Coffee |
| 9.15 – 10.15 | Erik Krempel/Pascal Birnstill (Karlsruhe): „Smart Video Surveillance: Technical Possibilities and Limitations“ |
| 10.15 – 10.30 | Coffee break |
| 10.30 – 11.45 | Patrick Smith (Singapore): “Neo-Republicanism, State Surveillance, and Privacy-by-Design“ |
| 11.45 – 13.00 | Matthew Hall (London): “Escaping the balance between security and liberty. A radical republican perspective“ |
| 13.00 – 14.00 | Lunch break |
| 14.00 – 15.15 | Scott Robbins (Delft): “Bulk Data Collection, Machine Learning, and Ethics“ |
| 15.15 – 15.30 | Coffee break |
| 15.30 – 16.45 | Peter Königs (Karlsruhe): “How to Think About State Mass Surveillance“ |
| 16.45 – 17.00 | Wrap-up |

Contact: Peter Königs, peter.koenigs@kit.edu