

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS and PAPERS

West Chester University's Philosophy Graduate Student Association
Presents:

The 14th Annual Graduate Philosophy Conference

Existential Philosophy and Literature

Keynote Speaker:
Yi-Ping Ong, PhD
Assistant Professor,
Comparative Thought and Literature Department
Johns Hopkins University

Followed by a panel discussion

Friday, March 29th, 2019
West Chester University of Pennsylvania
West Chester, PA

Submission of Proposals: We welcome all proposals addressing themes within the discipline of Existential Philosophy and Literature including such themes as Sartre, Beauvoir, Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, Fanon, Heidegger, Anxiety, Freedom, etc. Topics dealing with the unique style of existential expression are highly encouraged. We encourage intellectual diversity and will accept submissions from Asian, African, and other viewpoints. We are also open to novel forms of presentation.

Graduate Student and Faculty Submissions: Please email an abstract of no more than 550 words in a file prepared for blind review, meaning without any personal identifying information. In the body of the e-mail include author's name, paper title, institutional affiliation, faculty or graduate student status, and email address. Final papers should be of a length that permits a 20-25 minute presentation.

Undergraduate Student Submissions: Please submit a paper, formatted with double- spaced, numbered pages, 3000 words maximum (not counting notes) in a file prepared for blind review. Include in a separate file an abstract of no more than 250 words. In the body of the e-mail include author's name, paper title, institutional affiliation, and word count for the paper. Time for presentation will be 15 to 20 minutes.

The submission deadline is February 22nd, 2019

Email your submissions to: ap892325@wcupa.edu.

Please use "Conference Submission" as your subject.

Acceptance notifications will occur no later than March 1st, 2019