

Call for Applicants

Graduate Institute in Philosophy of Education

Application Deadline: January 21, 2020

Sponsored by the Center for Ethics and Education

The Graduate Institute in Philosophy of Education aims to support and cultivate new scholars with knowledge and skills for future philosophical engagement with education. The course will focus on the theme of education and social mobility.

Program Details

- 10-day intensive summer course in Chicago, IL June 14-26, 2020
- 6-day summer course in Madison, WI June 6-12, 2021
- Participants will be supported in developing a new paper in or related to philosophy of education to submit to AERA, which will be held April 9-12, 2021 in Orlando, Florida.
- Students admitted into the program will have all travel, accommodations and most meals paid for at all events.

Applicants for the program should be graduate students from schools of education or philosophy departments interested in pursuing questions of policy and practice in education.

Instructors

Harry Brighouse (UW-Madison), Tony Laden (University of Illinois at Chicago), guest instructors TBA

---

For more details, visit the CEE website at ethicsandeducation.wceruw.org/grad-programming.html
or contact Abby Beneke at cee@wcer.wisc.edu

THE CENTER FOR
ETHICS & EDUCATION

Wisconsin Center for Education Research
SCHOOL OF EDUCATION
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON