- PhD and MA students may submit proposals from any tradition addressing philosophy in its widest sense: particularly at the intersections of imagination, speculative and analytic argument, metaphysics, hermeneutics, ethics, theology, literature...
- Abstracts: no more than 400 words. Include: Name, Email, Phone, institutional affiliation, and year of study.
- Please submit abstracts, by 1st Feb, 2020 to Dan Bradley: bradleyd@gonzaga.edu
- Conference papers will be 3-4,000 words for a 45 minute session, so there will plenty of time to discuss your work.
- This has become a premier N. American post-grad conference known for its hospitality (your only costs should be travel) and vibrant, high-level philosophical discussion. For more, see <https://gonzagagrphil.com>
