

Call for Papers for the 24th Annual Oxford Philosophy Graduate Conference

We welcome submissions from all graduate students in philosophy for the 24th Annual Oxford Philosophy Graduate Conference. In light of the global coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, we have decided to postpone our conference which was originally scheduled to take place on 14-15th November 2020. The new date of the conference will be 6-7th February 2021. The submission date (3rd August 2020) remains unchanged.

The University of Oxford's Annual Graduate Philosophy Conference enjoys a reputation as one of the most prestigious philosophy conferences at the graduate level in the United Kingdom.

Papers can be on any topic in philosophy. We aim to represent a broad range of philosophical debates and traditions in our final selection, across areas of both theoretical and practical philosophy.

Each student presentation will be followed by a response from a member of the Oxford Philosophy Faculty.

All submissions will undergo a double-blind review process.

For submission details, see below.

Eligibility:

All current graduate students in philosophy may apply (except students enrolled at Oxford at the time of the conference).

Submission details: The submission deadline is 3rd August 2020.

1. All submissions are to be made through the EasyChair portal (<https://easychair.org/conferences/?conf=oxgradconf24>). You will have to register for an account.
2. When registering for an account, please include your full name, affiliation and degree being studied, and contact details.
3. On the submission form, you will be asked to provide the following:
 - A (preliminary) title;
 - An abstract of no more than 500 words;
 - Three keywords identifying the areas of philosophy the paper deals with; and
 - The main paper (to be uploaded), which should
 - be strictly no more than 4,000 words, including title and footnotes (suitable for a 45-min presentation);
 - be in .doc(x), .txt, or .pdf formats; and
 - contain no information identifying the author or the author's institutional affiliation.
4. We particularly encourage submissions by philosophers from groups who are underrepresented in the discipline.
