The KU Leuven is pleased to host the International Ricœur Conference in 2020, fifty years after Paul Ricœur started his seminars at this institution. Today, the work of Paul Ricœur enjoys wide, international recognition. On this occasion, we would like to study the ways in which he has come by this recognition and that which may still be owed to him. In order to do this, it is necessary to situate his work in the different linguistic, cultural, and disciplinary worlds of its reception.
