

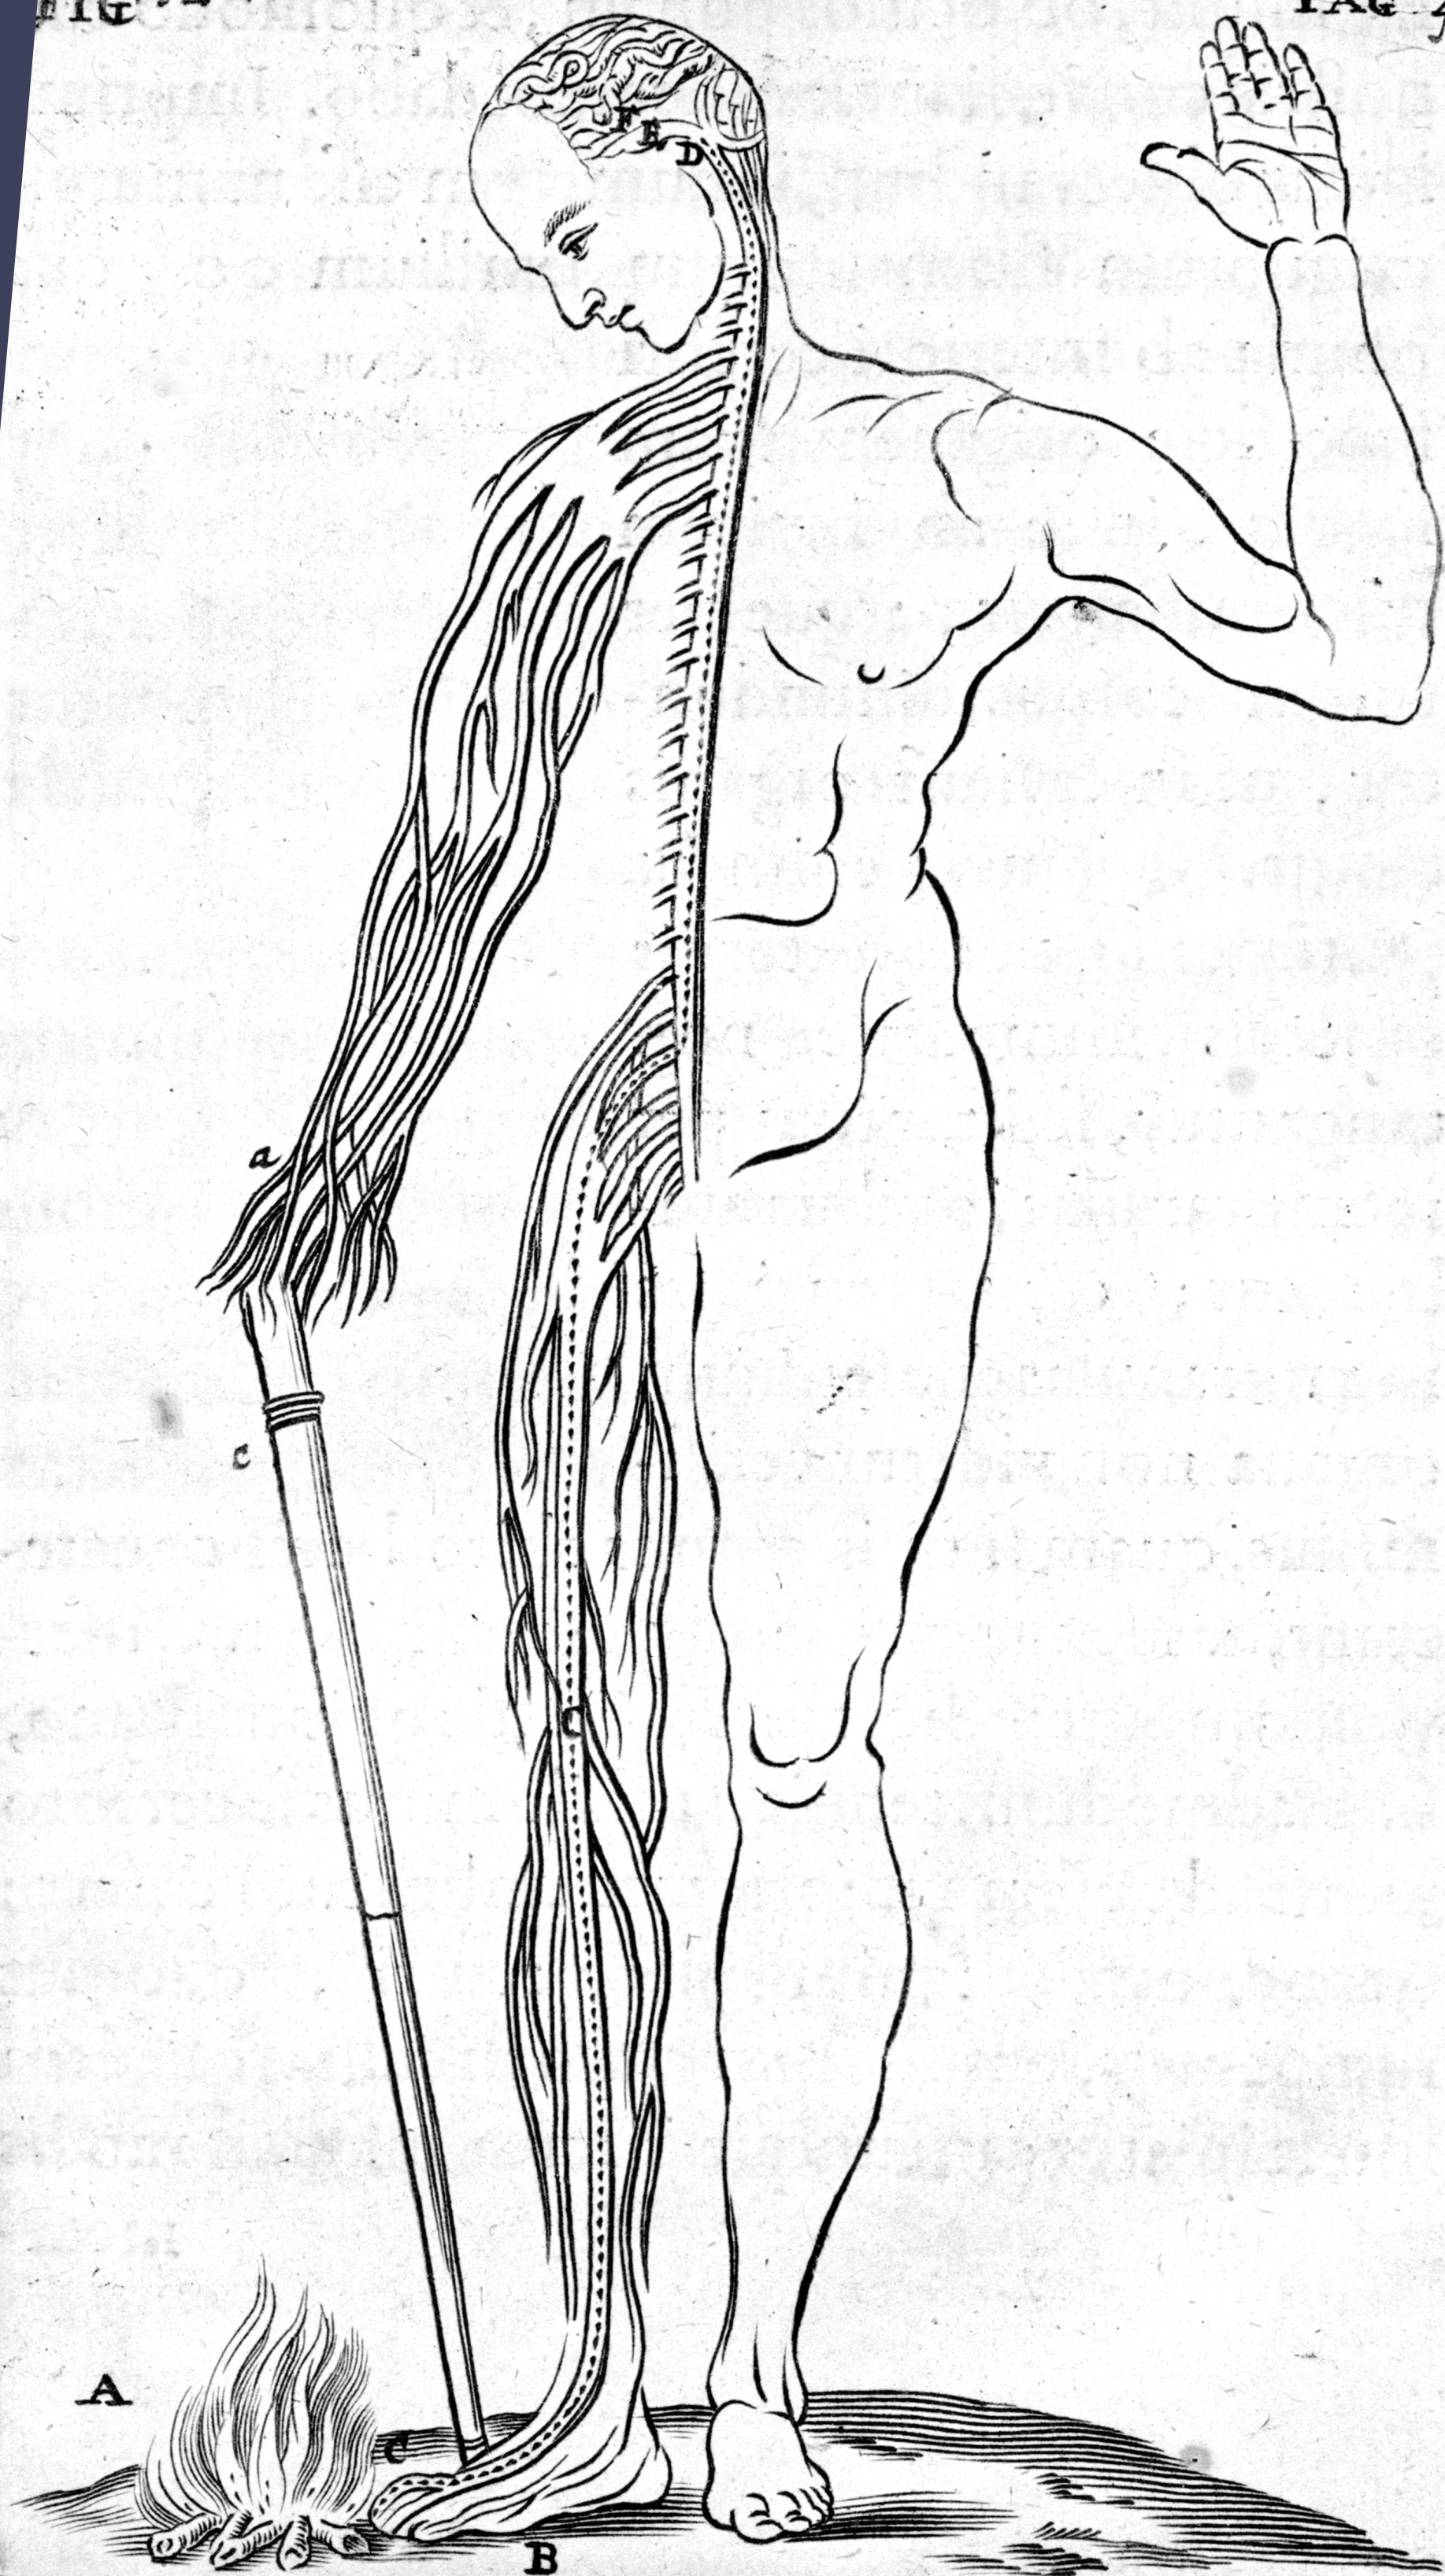

FIG 12

NYC Workshop in Early Modern Philosophy

MIND BODY PASSION

December 4 - 6, 2020
All Online - Fordham University

Register for the conference here.
Zoom details will be distributed to participants ahead of the conference

nycearlymodern.weebly.com

2020 Schedule - "Mind, Body, Passion"

Friday, December 4

Session 1

Chair: Justin Smith

(Université Paris Diderot-Paris VII)

11:00 - 11:45

Barnaby Hutchins

(Ghent University)

"Cavendish on the Social Dynamics of Physics"

12:00 - 12:45

Colin Chamberlain

(Temple University)

"What is it Like to be a Material Thing? Cavendish's Argument for Materialism"

Session 2

Chair: Andrew Chignell

(Princeton University)

2:00 - 3:00

Marleen Rozemond &

(University of Toronto)

Alison Simmons

(Harvard University)

"It's All Alive! Natural Order and Human Beings in Cavendish and Conway"

Saturday, December 5

Session 1

Chair: Enrique Chavez-Arviso

(John Jay College of Criminal Justice)

9:00 - 9:45

Ariane Schneck

(Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin/Universität Bielefeld)

"Autonomy and Self-Love in Descartes"

10:00 - 10:45

Alexandra Chadwick

(University of Leiden/University of Jyväskylä)

"Pity the Hammer? Hobbes on Sense and Pansensism"

Session 2

Chair: Daniel Garber

(Princeton University)

12:00 - 12:45

Ohad Nachtomy

(Technion, Israel Institute of Technology)

"Spinoza on the Capacities of the Body and the Wonders of the Mind"

1:00 - 1:45

Karolina Huebner

(Cornell University)

"Cavendish and Spinoza on Dividing Minds"

Session 3

Chair: Kathryn Tabb

(Bard College)

2:00 - 3:00

Don Garrett

(New York University)

"Panpsychism, Spinoza's Way"

Sunday, December 6

Session 1

Chair: Dan Cook

(CUNY/Brooklyn College)

11:00 - 11:45

Graham Clay &

(University of Notre Dame)

Michael Rauschenbach

(Washington University, St. Louis)

"The Burden of Unity: Berkeley between Hume and Spinoza"

12:00 - 12:45

Taro Okamura

(University of Alberta)

"Hume's Passion-Based Account of Agency"

1:00 - 1:45

Pirachula Chulanon

(University of Chicago)

"Kant on the Analogy between Mind and Matter"