

Structure

Journal of Metaphysics and Ontology

Structure is William & Mary's undergraduate journal of metaphysics and ontology. We define these subjects broadly, aiming to include work from any tradition and topic which engages with the nature of things, the meaning of being, or generally 'what is'.

What are we looking for in papers?

1. Topics: These topics, and ones like them, are ones we have in mind:
 - Contemporary issues in metaphysics and ontology.
 - History of metaphysics and ontology.
 - Applications of metaphysics and ontology to other topics or specific phenomena.
2. Length: Minimum 2,500 words.
3. Format: Any citation or text formatting is acceptable. The accepted papers will be adjusted afterwards.

Email your paper, prepared for blind review, along with an abstract (max. 300 words) to structure.philosophy@gmail.com!
