

CALL FOR PAPERS

Philosophy Undergraduate Conference

Hosted by Western's Minorities and Philosophy (MAP) Chapter

Western's MAP Chapter is pleased to announce that our fourth annual Philosophy Undergraduate Online Conference will be held on MARCH 5th, 2021 at 10am-1pm. This conference celebrates the excellent philosophical work of undergraduate students at Western.

Reflecting the commitments of MAP, the theme of the conference will broadly focus on relevant areas such as philosophy of gender, race, sexuality, class, and disability. These themes can intersect with other areas of philosophy. Although papers should be philosophical, authors who apply need not be specializing, majoring, or minoring in philosophy.

Presentations will be no more than 15 minutes in length, followed by a short Q & A period. Presenters can either present live or share a pre-recorded video or slideshow.

Students are encouraged to submit a relevant term paper from a previous class, roughly 1500-2000 words or 15 minutes read aloud.

Papers will be reviewed anonymously and selected by MAP representatives based on relevance to the theme of this conference. The selected authors will be notified by email. Faculty and graduate student organizers will be available to help authors of accepted papers prepare for the conference.

Please submit papers to Western's MAP email address: mapwestern@gmail.com by JANUARY 31st, 2020.

If you have any questions about this conference, please send an email to Western's MAP email address (mapwestern@gmail.com).
