uncertainty, decision and policy

Department of History and Philosophy of Science, University of Cambridge

10:00 BST  Start
10:15  Katie Steele (Australian National University)
Pandemic decision-making and the spread of social risk
11:30  Krister Bykvist (Stockholm University)
How to handle moral trade-offs in pandemics (and other crises)?
12:45  Break
13:30  Martin Peterson (Texas A&M University)
COVID-19 and the Precautionary Principle: A convex and well-formed region in an optimally designed conceptual space?
14:45  Break
14:50  Nir Eyal (Rutgers University)
Which uncertainties matter? The case of risky COVID vaccine human challenge trials
16:05  Discussion
16:30  End

15 April, 2021

Register online

For more information, get in touch with the organisers: Stephen John (sdj22@cam.ac.uk) or Emma Curran (ejc97@cam.ac.uk)