

NordPhil2021

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

NordPhil 2021 invites applicants to submit an extended abstract on any area of philosophy to be presented in Stockholm, October 1-2, 2021.

NordPhil is a philosophy conference series for students affiliated with a Nordic university. It has previously been held at the University of Oslo, Uppsala University, Lund University and the University of Copenhagen. The fifth edition of NordPhil will be held at Stockholm University.

NordPhil provides a valuable platform for aspiring philosophers who wish to develop their professional skills and test their ideas in an encouraging critical environment. More broadly, the conference intends to foster a greater exchange of ideas between Nordic philosophers with the long term goal of promoting the international standing of Nordic philosophy.

Submission guidelines:

Applicants should submit extended abstracts of max. 1500 words (excluding bibliography) on any area of philosophy. Chosen applicants will be invited to present at Stockholm University.

The abstract must be written in English to be considered.

Applicants must be affiliated with a Nordic university. Students at bachelor or master level are given priority.

Extended abstracts should be prepared for blind review, i.e. contain no information disclosing the identity or affiliation of the applicant. A separate cover sheet should be included in the application, stating paper title, name of applicant, affiliation, level of study and contact details.

To apply:

Send your extended abstract and cover sheet (as PDFs) to nordphil.stockholm@gmail.com. Submission deadline: May 26, 2021
