Journal of "Hekmat e Mo'aser" (Contemporary Wisdom)

Call for Papers by international researchers

The Journal of "Hekmat e Mo'aser" (Contemporary Wisdom) is a semiannual peer-reviewed journal focusing on the latest researches in the field of Islamic philosophy, theology, and mysticism. The journal publishes theoretical works focused on specific problems or subject matters in the Islamic philosophical/ theological tradition as well as comparative and interdisciplinary researches relevant in the field. Journal of Contemporary Wisdom has been indexed in more than 30 famous databases including DOAJ, Hollis Harvard Library, WorldCat, Philpapers, Philosophy Documentation center and ISC (ranked Q2 at ISC), and is going to be indexed in Scopus.

For its upcoming issues, Hekmat e Mo'aser, invites researchers around the world from different research centers and universities, with a wide range of academic backgrounds related to Islamic philosophical tradition to submit their articles to the journal. The next issues (2021-2022) will accept both research papers and reviews in Farsi (originally written or translated). Case studies on a certain issue or, history of ideas approaches, critical reviews, comparative investigations, and innovative ideas on the revival of the Islamic philosophical tradition for the contemporary world are welcomed. Submitted manuscripts are double-blind reviewed by a minimum of two reviewers. Manuscripts that are not within the scope of the journal would be returned to the authors without a formal review.
