

CALL FOR PAPERS

Cross Currents:

Change, Transformation, and Becoming

University of Hawai'i at Mānoa
2022 Uehiro Graduate Philosophy Conference

Through the Generous Support of
Uehiro Foundation on Ethics and Education

Keynote Speakers:

Roger T. Ames
Peking University

Laurie A. Paul
Yale University

Jonathan D. Fine
University of Hawai'i at Mānoa

Date: March 16-17

Venue: Hybrid Online/In-Person

Submissions are welcome on, but not limited to, the following topics: the metaphysics of change, the metaphysics of identity, cultural change, historical change, value change and acquisition, political change, conceptual changes and shifts, novelty, invention, creation, discovery, climate change, evolution, adaptation, education, personal change, development, and transformation, transformational aesthetic experiences, the seasons, impermanence, comparative philosophy/perspectives on the nature of change, along with interdisciplinary and cross-cultural studies on the concept of change and related subjects.

Submission Deadline: January 29, 2022

Send papers to: uehiroPC@hawaii.edu

In the body of the email include the following: 1) Your name, 2) Title of the paper, 3) Institutional affiliation, and 4) Contact information (email, phone number, mailing address).