

SECOND ANNUAL UNC PHILOSOPHY AND PSYCHIATRY CONFERENCE

The Future of Human Nature: Transhumanism, Dehumanization and Virtual Worlds

Saturday, April 30
9am on youtube.com/UNCPsychiatry

Free and Open to the Public for viewing on the Department of Psychiatry's
YouTube page above.

Conference Program:

9-9:15 Opening Remarks

9:15-10:45 Susan Levin, PhD

10:45-11:00 Break

11:00-12:30 David L. Smith, PhD

12:30-1:00 Break

1:00-2:30 David Chalmers, PhD

2:30-2:45 Break

2:45-4:30 Panel discussion

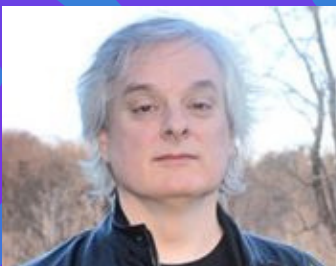

4:30-4:40 Closing remarks

Professor Susan Levin (Smith College, Humanities and Philosophy) is presenting “Posthumanity Is a Misnomer: Transhumanists’ View of What We Are and Can Become Is Behind the Times” which draws from her latest book Posthuman Bliss? The Failed Promise of Transhumanism (Oxford 2021).

Professor David Livingstone Smith (The University of New England, Philosophy) is presenting “How Dehumanization Works”, which draws from his latest book Making Monsters: The Uncanny Power of Dehumanization (Harvard 2021).

Professor David Chalmers (NYU, Philosophy) is presenting “Virtual Worlds and the Human Mind” which draws from his latest work Reality+: Virtual Worlds and the Problems of Philosophy (Norton 2022).