

The UK-IVR Association for Philosophy of Law and Social Philosophy in collaboration with the University of Surrey Centre for Law and Philosophy are delighted to announce the

UK-IVR 2022 Annual Conference

Law, Rationality and Practical Reason: Ancient and Contemporary Perspectives

The conference centres on the intersections of law, rationality and practical reason, from ancient and/or contemporary perspectives. We aim to create a platform for the exchange of ideas and the creation of synergies for new ways of thinking about law, practical reason and rationality among researchers in the field of philosophy, legal theory, law, sociology, psychology, intellectual history, classics and political science. We encourage all methodologies, including historical analysis and comparative intellectual history. The conference will consist of both presented papers and workshops on specific topics.

Please note that the conference will be held entirely online, and registration is free and mandatory. Attendees and presenters will receive the full programme, including abstracts, and the respective zoom links of the conference after registration.

Please register at the following link to receive the programme and Zoom links:

<https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/uk-ivr-2022-annual-conference-law-rationality-and-practical-reason-tickets-329641465497>

Keynote speakers

Professor Kimberley Brownlee (University of British Columbia)
Professor Terence Irwin (University of Oxford and Cornell University)
Professor Melissa Lane (Princeton University)
Professor Matt Matravers (University of York)

10-11 June
2022

Online event